

Macarthur Diversity Services NSW - Helping Young People to Excel (HYPE)

Service Provider: Macarthur Diversity Services

Region: NSW

What: HYPE (Helping Young People to Excel), program to supports young people aged 12 to 24 from multicultural backgrounds, including new arrivals, to obtain new skills and knowledge, increase self-esteem and make social connections.

Best practice domain:

- Addressing the needs of emerging groups

Brief overview

Macarthur Diversity Services has designed an eight-week youth program called HYPE (Helping Young People to Excel) to help young people excel in areas such as education, employment, training, health and fitness.

The program supports young people aged 12 to 24 from multicultural backgrounds, including new arrivals, to obtain new skills and knowledge, increase self-esteem and make social connections. It expects to enhance their academic, physical, social and mental wellbeing.

Please let us know if you encounter a provider who are employing effective strategies to improve the wellbeing of their multicultural communities.